MAJ. H. S. HETRICK SHOT: MAHER. We wish to extend to our relatives and many friends our sincere thanks and appreciation for the kindness, sympathy and beautiful floral tributes during the illness of our beloved son and brother. WILLIAM MISTAKEN FOR ANOTHER

Army Engineer Officer at New Orleans Expected to Recover

NEW ORLEANS, January 2-Maj

Harold S. Hetrick. United States Army Engineers, was shot in the head at his home last night by a roughly dressed man who mistook him for another person, according to a state-ment made today by the victim.

Maj. Hetrick said a man knocked at the door, asked if a person whose name he had forgotten lived there and then, when answered in the negative, entered the living room and fired at entered the living room and fired at him. "There was no mystery," said Maj. Hetrick, "It was a plain case of mistaken identity."

Physicans were of the opinion today that Maj. Hetrick would survive. Maj. Hetrick is a native of Kansas City. Mo. During the war he was a colonel of engineers in the National Army. He was graduated at West Point in 1906 and entered the academy after leaving Yale University in 1901. He came here from Washington, D. C. last August. His father, the Rev. A. J. Hetrick, retired Presbyterian minister, and his mother-in-law. Mrs. Jennie Gray, were in the house at the time of the shooting.

MR. BAKER DISAPPROVES.

Objects to Suggestion to Permit Wearing of Blue Uniform.

Secretary Baker has disapproved the suggestion of Inspector General Chamberlain that officers of the Army permitted to wear the blue uniform

In announcing his action the Secretary of War said he not only disapproves of the recommendation in principle, but that he objects seriously to the proposition to permit officers of the old Regular Army which existed before the war to wear a uniform which would distinguish them from the great mass of the 18,000 officers now in being, the majority of wohm do not possess, and never have possessed, a blue uniform. Anything which continues the difference between these two classes of officers does not meet with his ap-
